LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A bill to provide a $5 two-year driver's license was introduced in the Arkansas Senate today by Sen. Merle Peterson of Dumas.

It would add $405,000 annually to that part of state revenues which go to operate the State Police.

Anyone buying a license in the second year of the two-year period would pay only $2.50.

The Senate passed three local bills, two sent over from the House and one of its own. The House bills would regulate fees for the prosecuting attorney in Bradley County and raise salaries for court reports in the 5th Chancery District.

The Senate adjourned until 1 p. m. Monday.

The Senate bill passed would create probation officers for the first division of the 6th Circuit Court.

Sen. Jim Raney of Warren introduced a bill to help officers track down people who desert their dependents. It would make records of state departments and agencies available to prosecuting attorneys.

The House Welfare Committee recommended passage today of bills to increase the maximum welfare grant for aged and blind persons from $65 to $85 a month.

The House approved three state rights amendments to the U. S. Constitution Wednesday after a 90-minute debate and cleared the way for final action on the measures.

The key point in the debate, first extended discussion in the lower chamber during the current session, was whether the proposals would help or hurt the South's position in the federal-state confrontation.

One of the proposals—go give state legislatures power to force Congress to propose amendments—barely got enough votes for passage. Late votes by Rep. Bill Thompson of Poinsett County and Raymond Mays of Cleveland County pushed the affirmative total to the 51 needed for passage. Forty no votes were cast.

Amendments to relieve the U. S. Supreme Court of authority to rule in cases involving apportionment of state legislatures got respectable margins of approval.

The House passed its first general bills of the session in a three-hour meeting Wednesday.

Bill Figures to Save Money

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A bill that would save the state as much as $100,000 a year in the cost of licensing cars will be submitted to the 1963 legislature, the Arkansas Automobile Club said Wednesday.

The club said the bill would make uniform fees for licensing passenger cars and light trucks. The present procedure is based on a formula combining weight and horsepower.

Twenty-four states have adopted a flat-fee system, the club said, and 19 of these include light pick-up trucks up to one-ton capacity in the formula.

Many Cubans to Leave for the U.S.

HAVANA (AP)—Hundreds of Cubans leaving for the United States aboard the American freighter Shirley Lykes hurried to comply today with the Castro regime's departure requirements.

Under recent regulations they were required to forfeit their homes and automobiles to the state and to pay all utility bills before leaving. They were allowed to take no jewelry and were permitted only three changes of clothing.

No sailing time was announced for the Shirley Lykes, originally expected to leave Wednesday night with 900 to 1,000 relatives of the recently released Bay of Pigs invaders aboard. The Red Cross in Miami said it hoped to announce a sailing date today.

The 490-foot freighter is expected to take the Cubans to Port Everglades, Fla.

The ship reached Havana Friday with more than 7,000 tons of food and medicines as an installment on the ransom for the 1,113 Cuban invasion prisoners freed last month.

The Pan American Airways plane which flew in the coats and blankets returned to Miami Wednesday, as expected, with 102 passengers. All were U. S. citizens of Cuban descent or their dependents born in Cuba.

Skies Clear But Temperatures Near Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Overnight lows skidded to below-zero readings this morning as winter tightened its grip on Arkansas.

Highways around the state generally were clear, however, and no snow was in the Weather Bureau's forecast for today and Friday. Skies were generally clear over the state.

Little Rock, which records the official readings for the state, had a record two degrees above zero this morning, three degrees below the old record set in 1894.

There were lower temperatures, however. Fayetteville shivered in three-below weather, while Walnut Ridge recorded two below. It was one below at Harrison.

Many of the schools that closed because of snow, ice and sub-freezing temperatures Wednesday, remained closed today. Among the schools closed today were Nettleton, Caraway, Cash, Valley View, Egypt, Harrisburg, Tucker-Plum Bayou, Wabbaseka, Crowley's Ridge Academy, Greene County Tech, Humphrey and Clarendon.

State Police reported that traffic conditions were improved, but warned that some ice might still remain on bridges around the state.

The Weather Bureau predicted fair weather today and tonight and partly cloudy Friday. Temperatures were expected to be a little higher Friday, but lows tonight were expected to dip again to near zero. Highs of 20 to 30 were forecast for today.

None of the Weather Bureau's regular reporting stations had temperatures higher than six above this morning. That was the reading at Pine Bluff and Texarkana.

Precipitation reported around the state during the 24-hour period ending this morning at six o'clock ranged from a trace at Fayetteville to .06 of an inch in the West Memphis area. Most stations reported .01 to .02 of an inch.

Gathings to Call Meet on Cotton Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. E. C. Gathings, D-Ark., said Wednesday his House Agriculture Subcommittee will meet Jan. 30 and 31 to hear recommendations by the Agriculture Department on legislation that would affect the 1963 cotton crop.

Observing that the sessions will conclude studies his group has been conducting on the subject Gathings said spokesmen for the American Farm Bureau Federation and the New York Cotton Exchange also will be among those invited to testify.

Under Secretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy is expected to be the department's first witness of the subcommittee is to draft legislation that would improve the domestic textile mills' competitive position with foreign mills and cotton's position with regard to synthetic fibers, Gathings said.

It is imperative that we move swiftly, if any legislation is to be effective on this year's cotton crop.

One proposal is to offer the domestic mills a subsidy on dyed cotton cotton price equivalent to the 8½ cents a pound foreign mills receive on U. S. cotton.

New Russia Buildup in Cuba Probed

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse has ordered an immediate Senate investigation into reports of a new round-the-clock Soviet military buildup in Cuba.

State Department officials will be the first to appear before the Oregon Democrat's Latin-American affairs subcommittee when the inquiry gets under way Saturday.

A massive Soviet arms buildup in Cuba last year precipitated a major East-West crisis. But following an agreement with President Kennedy, Soviet Premier Khrushchev ordered the removal of offensive missiles and jet bombers and tensions eased.

Since then the administration has maintained a reassuring attitude. Just two weeks ago Secretary of State Dean Rusk was quoted as having told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he was convinced all Soviet missiles and bombers classed as offensive had been removed.

By contrast, that very day Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., contended that Prime Minister Fidel Castro is 10 times better equipped militarily than he was last spring.

The new flurry over Soviet arms in Cuba was capped Wednesday by a New York Times news service report that the Soviet Union is building highly sophisticated ground and air defenses in Cuba.

The gist of the Times story: Soviet encampments are being relocated and strengthened and Soviet experts are directing Cubans in the construction of underground depots, hangars and runways.

Asked about the reports, State and Defense Department informants said military construction in Cuba is proceeding at a normal pace and is defensive in character.

Keating said, however, he has information confirmed by official government sources that Soviet weapons have been pouring into Cuba. He said they include MIG fighter planes and torpedo boats capable of carrying or firing nuclear weapons.

Morse said he has no special knowledge about an arms buildup. But, I'll certainly proceed to learn all I can.

President Offers First Phase of Tax Cut Program

By FRANK KORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy urged Congress today to cut taxes by $3.2 billion this year as the first step toward an eventual 18 per cent slash in the average American's tax bill.

Setting forth the long-awaited details of his ambitious and controversial tax program in a 12,500-word special message, Kennedy asked that the 1963 cuts be made retroactive to Jan. 1.

However, the pocketbook effect on individuals would only come if and when a new tax law was enacted and employers began withholding less tax money from paychecks, Kennedy assumes, perhaps optimistically, that this can be done by July 1.

Proposed tax savings, to be parceled out over a three-year period, would go as high as 39 per cent for nearly 10 million low-income house-holders. At the upper end of the income scale, the average cut would be 9 per cent.

The Kennedy program, aimed at squirting fiscal adrenaline into the economic bloodstream, would combine $13.6 billion of individual and corporate rate cuts with $3.4 billion of revenue-raising changes in time-honored special tax benefits. The net tax reduction thus would be $10.2 billion.

The income column represents the taxable income, after subtraction of exemptions and personal deductions, of married couples filing joint returns:

Income	1962 tax	1963 tax	1964 tax
$4,000	$800	$750	$650
$8,000	1,600	1,500	1,410
$12,000	2,720	2,500	2,290
$16,000	3,920	3,730	3,310
$20,000	5,200	5,010	4,470

In seeking revision of benefit provisions, Kennedy called for the most sweeping overhaul of the basic tax law in more than 20 years. His proposals would affect itemized deductions, oil depletion allowances, capital gains taxes, sick pay benefits and a variety of other entrenched items claiming strong support.

Plugging for early action on this, his top priority legislation for the year, Kennedy said: "Our economy is checkmated today by a war-born tax system at a time when it is far more in need of the spur than the bit."

And he said his program represents the very spur needed to boost employment, put more money into circulation and, eventually, put enough revenue into the federal Treasury to balance the soaring budget.

Even so, the package will face certain opposition from some Congress members who shrink from the idea of cutting taxes at a time of mounting budget deficits.

In addition, the program was just as certain to rile backers of the special tax benefits that Kennedy would repeal or revise.

But all along the line, the President obviously had made an effort to more than offset the bitter with the sweet.

These were some of the major items on the sweet side: Individual tax rates, now ranging from 20 to 91 per cent, would be cut in three steps to a new sliding scale running from a low of 14 per cent to a high of 65 per cent. The range suggested for 1963 was 18½ to 84½ per cent—to produce a first-year cut of $28 billion.

The top corporate rate of 52 per cent would be cut to 50 per cent in 1964 and 47 per cent in 1967. Effective this year, the 30 per cent rate on the first $25,000 of taxable corporate income would be slashed to 22 per cent. This would cover the entire earnings of 450,000 small corporations.

Individuals could claim a brand new minimum standard deduction of $150 each for husband and wife. The only charge is plus $100 for each dependent.

These could be claimed even if contribution, as much as you they added up to more than the fee like giving to the Dimes present standard deduction of 10 per cent of taxable income.

Slash Would Benefit Some Individuals

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—For some Americans, an end to income taxes; for most, a cut; for a handful, a boost—that's the intent of President Kennedy's proposed tax changes.

And, for 6.5 million Americans, the changes also would mean a shift in the way they figure their taxes.

Those 6.5 million taxpayers would be nudged from itemizing their deductions into taking the standard 10 per cent deduction. For them, this would make the tax cut less juicy than it might have been.

President Kennedy said he does not want the changes to start until later this year and take full effect until 1965. And, they won't take effect at all if Congress does not approve them.

At present single persons with incomes of $667 and married couples with incomes of $1,333 must pay some taxes. The President has recommended adopting a minimum standard deduction. This would have the effect of letting people stand free of taxes until their incomes reach $900 if they are single or $1,500 if they are married. Between $500 and a million Americans would go off the tax rolls.

On the other end of the ladder, a few individuals in the highest income brackets, particularly if they have special interests in such fields as oil or real estate, might feel a boost in taxes. So far, there has been no estimate of how many are affected, but they likely would number only a few.

But, for most Americans between the very low incomes and the very high incomes, the most vital part of the President's proposals would cut their taxes and alter their way of listing deductions.

A married man with two children has an adjusted gross income of $5,000. Now, he itemizes his deductions, contributions, state and local taxes, medical expenses, and others, and deducts $1,100. His total tax is $300.

Under the changes, he could deduct only $850.

But, because of the proposed tax cuts by 1965, his total income tax, despite his lower deductions, would be $245, a cut of $55 for him.

Another typical taxpayer also with two children, has an income of $5,000 and took the standard deduction. He now pays $420. Under the proposed changes, he would pay $296 by 1965.

Here's a rundown of typical itemized deductions and taxes for some married taxpayers with two children:

In the following table, all dollars, column A" is income, B" is deductions, C" is proposed deductions, D" is present tax and E" is proposed tax:

3,000	750	650	0	0
7,500	1,500	1,125	720	596
10,000	1,800	1,300	1,196	1,014
15,000	2,550	1,900	2,213	1,908
20,000	3,300	2,300	3,410	2,952

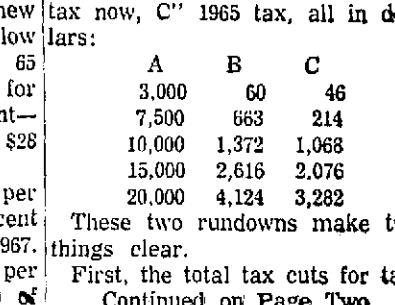

A similar rundown for a married couple with two children taking the standard deduction, the table showing A" income, B" tax now, C" 1965 tax, all in dollars:

A	B	C
3,000	60	46
7,500	663	214
10,000	1,372	1,068
15,000	2,616	2,076
20,000	4,124	3,282

These two rundowns make two things clear.

First, the total tax cuts for tax-

Dollarway Opens But No New Students

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Classes at Dollarway school, scene of integration trouble Tuesday, open again today after a brief shut-down because of cold weather.

But the two Negro students who attended the school will not be there.

George Howard, father of Sarah Howard, 14, one of the students, asked Wednesday for adequate protection for his daughter and Samuel Wayne Cato, 8, the other pupil.

He wired Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy and Gov. Orval E. Faubus, saying he would not send the youths back to school until protection was given them.

Faubus acknowledged receipt of the telegram but said he had no comment on the matter.

In Washington a Justice Department spokesman said the department is making no investigation, but we are closely following developments.

At Little Rock, U.S. Atty. Robert D. Smith said he thought Pine

Bluff authorities had the situation completely under control, but that his office was investigating the incident, in which John Irvin, 14, a white youth, was stabbed.

He said the Federal Bureau of Investigation is also looking into the incident, but apparently no federal law has been violated.

William Howard, 33, a service station operator and brother of George Howard, was arrested following the flare-up at the school Tuesday and has been charged with assault with intent to kill.

Irvin was hospitalized. His condition was not believed to be serious, officials said.

Sheriff Harold Norton said Wednesday night he planned no special patrol of the school today when classes resumed. He said he did not anticipate any difficulty. The school was closed Tuesday after sleet iced roads in the area.

George Howard said he had no further comment on the situation. The Irvin youth was injured after someone threw a rock or bottle through the window of William Howard's station wagon as he picked up the two Negro students to take them home after school.

Norton said Howard got out of the car to chase one youth and Irvin intercepted him.

payers who now use the standard deductions will be greater than for those who itemize their deductions.

Second, for some taxpayers, the point now may be reached where it makes more sense to use the standard deduction than the itemized deductions. The President estimates that this would occur in the case of 6.5 million taxpayers.

Of the 51 million taxpayers in the United States, about half now itemize their deductions.

the care of children while they work could deduct $900 for the care of two children and $1,000 for three. In addition, families with working wives could earn $7,000 a year instead of the present $4,500 limit and still claim this benefit.

Then there were these proposals combining the bitter and the sweet:

Most taxpayers 65 or older could subtract $300 from their annual tax bill. But they could no longer claim an additional $600 personal exemption nor the present retirement income credit. The net effect would be a tax saving for most—but not all—older taxpayers.

Taxes on long term capital gains, now ranging from 10 to 25 per cent, would be reduced to a new range of from 4.2 per cent to 19.5 per cent. But to claim a long term gain, you'd have to hold a share of stock or other capital asset for a year instead of the present six months.

Finally, most taxpayers probably would place the following recommendations in the bitter category:

Itemized deductions could only be claimed to the extent that they exceeded 5 per cent of taxable income. And there would be stricter limits on deductions for charitable contributions and casualty losses. Except for medical expenses, deductions now start with the first dollar of expense.

The right to exclude from taxable income up to $100 a week of sick pay, under certain circumstances, would be repealed entirely.

Special benefits lowering taxes paid on dividends paid corporate stockholders would be repealed.

Oil producers and others who claim depletion allowances would see these allowances slashed, in an indirect way, by 20 to 25 per cent.

There also would be changes in medical expense deductions. Taxpayers under 65 now may deduct medical outlays in excess of 3 per cent of taxable income, with drugs and medicines deductible only if they top 1 per cent of income. The two categories would be lumped under a new 4 per cent of income rule and, in addition, would be subject to the general 5 per cent floor on itemized deductions.

Present dollar limits on medical deductions would be repealed, however, and persons 65 or older could deduct all such expenses—subject only to the general 5 per cent floor.

Senate business was confined to introduction of two new bills, but one of these was the awaited compromise proposal on teacher retirement.

The Senate was to reconvene at 10 a.m. and the House at noon today.

A duplication of this bill was introduced in the House with signatures of 90 representatives, presaging easy passage when it comes to a vote.

The bill implements terms announced by Gov. Orval E. Faubus after negotiations with educational leaders. It is designed to make the retirement system actuarially sound within a few years by increasing the state's contribution gradually.

Teacher retirement was the hot issue of the 1961 Legislature. The Arkansas Education Association contended a state contribution of about $6 million a year was needed to keep the system sound. Faubus had the figure set at $3.7 million in fiscal 1962 and $3.9 million in fiscal 1963.

The compromise calls for a state contribution of $5 million in fiscal 1964. The figure will be increased by $500,000 a year until a retirement system actuary declares it is large enough to insure a sound system.

The bill also makes some changes in the manner in which contributions for non-public school members of the system are to be handled. Some employees of institutions of higher learning and of the AEA and other education-oriented organizations can belong.

A host of new measures were introduced in the House, including two proposed amendments to set four-year terms for state constitutional officers.

Both proposals provide for raising the salaries of the officials and both have a provision that a four-year governor cannot succeed himself.

One measure, by Reps. Lonnie Etheridge of Jackson County and Jim Brandon of Pulaski County, would set the governor's pay at $25,000 and let the legislature decide how much other officials should make.

The other proposal, by Rep. G. W. Turner Jr., of Jefferson County, would give the General Assembly control over all salaries.

Another proposed amendment, this one by Rep. Charles Stewart of Washington County, would permit juries to set a life sentence without possibility of parole in capital criminal cases.

Rep. W. L. Ward Sr., of Lee County introduced the first race bill of the session, a measure to require integrated eating establishments to post signs at each entrance notifying customers that meals are served on a racially mixed basis.

Rep. N. B. Murphy of Ashley County introduced a bill to create a new unit of the State Police to investigate gambling law violations. Gov. Orval E. Faubus said recently that the State Police lack manpower to investigate gambling and other law violations.

The bill would require the unit to act if it has reasonable information that laws are being violated. It could be used against gambling operations at Hot Springs.

The House passed two bills Wednesday and defeated one. They were the first general measures to come to a vote during the session.

Mississippi County Rep. Kenneth Sulzer's bill to give incorporated towns authority to set up planning agencies passed unanimously. Only first and second class cities now have planning authority.

A bill by Rep. John Miller of Izard County to require write-in candidates to announce 30 days before a general election, instead of 48 hours, was approved 90-4.

Defeated was a bill by Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen to revoke the right of a minority party to name a judge and clerk in precincts where the minority party has no registered members.

It got 66 votes but, since it amended an initiated act, it need-

The compromise calls for a state contribution of $5 million in fiscal 1964. The figure will be increased by $500,000 a year until a retirement system actuary declares it is large enough to insure a sound system.

The bill also makes some changes in the manner in which contributions for non-public school members of the system are to be handled. Some employees of institutions of higher learning and of the AEA and other education-oriented organizations can belong.

A host of new measures were introduced in the House, including two proposed amendments to set four-year terms for state constitutional officers.

Both proposals provide for raising the salaries of the officials and both have a provision that a four-year governor cannot succeed himself.

One measure, by Reps. Lonnie Etheridge of Jackson County and Jim Brandon of Pulaski County, would set the governor's pay at $25,000 and let the legislature decide how much other officials should make.

The other proposal, by Rep. G. W. Turner Jr., of Jefferson County, would give the General Assembly control over all salaries.

Another proposed amendment, this one by Rep. Charles Stewart of Washington County, would permit juries to set a life sentence without possibility of parole in capital criminal cases.

Rep. W. L. Ward Sr., of Lee County introduced the first race bill of the session, a measure to require integrated eating establishments to post signs at each entrance notifying customers that meals are served on a racially mixed basis.

Rep. N. B. Murphy of Ashley County introduced a bill to create a new unit of the State Police to investigate gambling law violations. Gov. Orval E. Faubus said recently that the State Police lack manpower to investigate gambling and other law violations.

The bill would require the unit to act if it has reasonable information that laws are being violated. It could be used against gambling operations at Hot Springs.

The House passed two bills Wednesday and defeated one. They were the first general measures to come to a vote during the session.

Mississippi County Rep. Kenneth Sulzer's bill to give incorporated towns authority to set up planning agencies passed unanimously. Only first and second class cities now have planning authority.

A bill by Rep. John Miller of Izard County to require write-in candidates to announce 30 days before a general election, instead of 48 hours, was approved 90-4.

Defeated was a bill by Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsen to revoke the right of a minority party to name a judge and clerk in precincts where the minority party has no registered members.

It got 66 votes but, since it amended an initiated act, it need-replacement of Jupiter rockets in Turkey with Polaris missile systems to provide NATO with a more effective nuclear deterrent.

In Washington, Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said: We are discussing the modernization of weapons systems with a number of countries, including Turkey. He added that he was not prepared to say more at this point.

The Army-built Jupiter was one of the first U.S. missiles to be come combat ready, back in January 1959. The Air Force's intermediate range Thor was declared operational somewhat earlier. Neither 1,500-mile range rocket figured for long in U.S. military plans.

Arctic air poured across the eastern two-thirds of the nation today bringing areas in the Midwest and the South their coldest weather in history.

Parts of Kentucky, where the mercury dropped to -28 degrees, were colder than Canada or Alaska. Atlanta, Ga., had its lowest reading of this century—3 below—while Anchorage, Alaska, had a minimum reading of 34 above and Juneau 32 above.

Louisville, Ky., had an all time low of -19.8; Nashville, Tenn., a record low of -15.2 and Cleveland a record low of -19.

The arctic air threatened to bring freezing weather to Miami, Fla., Friday morning. Tallahassee, in northwestern Florida, registered a record low for the date of 21.

The latest surge of frigid weather, which has gripped much of the midcontinent for more than two weeks, has been blamed for 92 deaths. The causes include exposure, asphyxiation, heart attacks from overexertion in snow and weather-related highway fatalities.

Temperatures were below zero over a wide area from the eastern slopes of the northern and central Rockies eastward to the Appalachians. The only areas to escape freezing weather were southern and central Florida and portions of California and the Pacific Coast.

Biting winds, snow, sleet, rain and other cold miseries caused widespread inconveniences and hazards.

Subzero readings clung to most of the Midwest.

Not much relief was in sight immediately. The rough weather was blamed for scores of deaths—by exposure, in fires and in traffic accidents on icy and snow-slicked highways. Countless hundreds were treated for frostbite as temperatures in many areas dropped to the lowest levels in many years. Some marks were near the minimums of this century.

Thousands of schools in the South and Midwest were closed. Some factories and business firms shut down to conserve heating gas. There were monumental traffic jams in scores of cities. Trains, buses and planes were slowed. Stalled autos, frozen water pipes and faulty furnaces were among the multitude of other cold weather discomforts.

Temperatures dropped sharply throughout the South and East as the arctic air, riding along on stiff winds, whipped across the nation's snow-covered midlands. The icy weather landed piercing blows across Dixie. The mercury plunged to 21 below zero in Bowling Green, Ky., and was below zero in parts of Tennessee and North Carolina.

Thermometers hit two below in Atlanta, Ga., and edged to near zero in other northern sections of Georgia, Texas and Alabama. Northern Florida and southern Texas shivered in freezing weather. It was 26 in Tallahassee, Fla., and 27 in McAllen, Tex., in the lower Rio Grande Valley. Freezing marks may chill southern Florida Friday.

Snow fell in northern parts of Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia and south West Virginia.

Record low marks for Jan. 23 and Jan. 24 were reported in Nashville, Tenn., which reported -13 this morning, near the city's all-time record minimum of -15.

Arkansas was in the grip of the severe cold belt with temperatures ranging from the teens to below zero. Detroit also set a record low for both Wednesday and today with the coldest weather in the city in 29 years. It was -12 late Wednesday night and -13 this morning. Pittsburgh's 17 below was a record low for the date, beating the old mark of -11 set in 1936. In Philadelphia, the mercury dropped 21 degrees in three hours to 8 above.

Patients Rescued From Rest Home

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Volunteer firemen rescued about 10 elderly persons from a rest home here Wednesday night after the one-story frame structure caught fire.

There were no injuries. Firemen fought the flames in 8-degree weather and had difficulty keeping water lines from freezing. A neighbor turned in the alarm. How the fire started was not determined.

Firemen said the rest home patients were given shelter by neighbors.

Louisiana Gas Company, said Wednesday Varco Steel Buildings of Pine Bluff has been awarded a contract for initial construction at the new Reynolds Gas Regulator Company plant at Sheridan. Stephens said the contract was for $70,000, for construction of a 50,000 square foot building. Total cost of the plant is to be about $550,000, he said.

Many Think DeGaulle Old Fashioned

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Worried U.S. officials claim that French President Charles de Gaulle is trying to turn back the clock of history, with his plan to unify Western Europe under French leadership without close British and American ties.

The main thrust of U.S. diplomacy within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in coming months, informants said, will be directed toward trying to prevent the new De Gaulle agreement with German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer from becoming the basis for a European system dominated by France.

President Kennedy faces the delicate problem at his news conference late today of making clear the U.S. position on the allied situation without hardening the split in the alliance if he can avoid it.

At the same time it is understood that he wants to leave no doubt in the minds of European leaders opposed to De Gaulle's aims that they have full U.S. support in trying to create a different kind of Europe.

While the State Department declined comment Wednesday on the Adenauer-De Gaulle treaty for French-German cooperation just concluded in Paris, Kennedy and Undersecretary of State George W. Ball welcomed the opportunity to pay tribute Wednesday night to another French leader, Jean Monnet. He has worked for many years for European unity set within a partnership with the United States.

Kennedy in a letter praised Monnet as a man who was in fact unifying Europe through the force of a constructive idea. Ball, who spoke at a dinner in New York where Monnet was honored, described the present as a time of crisis and clearly implied how the Washington government feels about De Gaulle's policies.

Ball said that Monnet has recognized that history is not static and that events must be directed toward meeting the needs of an evolving new age.

He has, therefore, never been tempted into the unhappy error—induced by a nostalgic longing for a world that never was—of seeking to recapture the past," Ball said.

Services Held for Fire Victim

VAN BUREN, Ark. (AP)—Billy Ray Mason, 24, whose two children died in a fire that destroyed their home last week, was held here today for Cincinnati, Ohio, police.

Sheriff Tom Wilbanks of Van Buren said Cincinnati officers had asked him to pick up Mason on Ohio charges of cutting to kill, burglary and grand larceny.

Wilbanks quoted Cincinnati police as saying a Billy Ray Mason had jumped bond in 1961. The sheriff said Mason had waived extradition to Ohio and Cincinnati officers were to come for him Friday or Saturday.

Mason's children were Billy Ray Jr., 4, and Patricia Ann, 2. A news story about the death of the children appeared in a Cincinnati newspaper.

Club Woman Object to Parking Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Secretary of State Kelly Bryant's plans to turn a green expanse behind the state capitol into a parking lot have hit a snag — club women.

The women, decrying Bryant's plan as further desecration of the grounds of our beautiful capitol building, went into action Wednesday.

Little Rock garden club members began the protest, then the Arkansas Federation of Garden Clubs got in on it.

Bryant's plan is to build a retaining wall below the first grounds behind the capitol, level it and make space for 67 cars. Dirt obtained in leveling this area would be used to fill an area behind the nearby Game and Fish Commission Building to provide space for more automobiles.

When some of us are trying to beautify Little Rock and have the old part of town fixed up, it is too bad to injure something that is already beautiful," commented Mrs. David B. Terry, a garden club leader.

Mrs. John B. Rebsamen, federation president, said she opposes anything that would detract from the attractiveness of the capitol.

The 16 members of the federation's executive committee will be notified of the plan, she said.

When Bryant explained his project to the Roads and Highways Committees of the House and Senate, Rep. G. D. Smith of Lincoln County said,

I'm for progress in parking, but our Capitol Grounds are too beautiful to tamper with unless we know what we are doing."

Bryant told the committees he hoped to use green concrete for the area west of the capitol so it would blend with the landscape.

Must Emphasize Racial Unity

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Negroes must increase their emphasis on voluntary racial unity, Dr. J. H. Jackson of Chicago, president of the National Baptist Convention U.S.A., Inc. said Wednesday.

Jackson told delegates to the mid-winter meeting of the board of directors of the Negro church group, There are signs that many devout white citizens in the U.S. are growing in their appreciation of human rights and understanding of American democracy.

He said Negroes must be committed to the common ideal of helping make a better social order and they must develop awareness of personal responsibility in removing the evils and errors among us that tend to destroy unity and human personality.

We as a race," he said, must not allow others in America to

Skating Figure Competition

CORTINA, Italy (AP)—A record number of competitors from 22 nations are expected to take part in the world figure skating championships here Feb. 27-March 5, organizers said.

Formal entries have been received from 15 Austrian skaters, 40 athletes and team officials from Canada, 5 competitors from Switzerland, 8 from the Soviet Union and 18 from the United States.

No Incidents in School Integration

YANCEYVILLE, C.N. (AP)—Caswell County entered its second day of school integration today, apparently without incident.

Eleven of the 16 Negro children integrating in three white schools returned to class under the watchful eyes of the state highway patrol.

Because of a shooting incident Tuesday involving a Negro parent and two white men, county Supt. Thomas Whitley had advised the Negro students to stay home today.

However, seven Negro children returned to the Bartlett-Yancey school, which included four of the children of Jasper Brown, 40, the Negro farmer charged with shooting the two white men.

The four Negro children assigned to the Pelham Elementary School in the northwest corner of the county returned there, but the five assigned to the Cobb School, also in the northwest section of the county, stayed home.

There were many absences at the Bartlett-Yancey school, but many of these may have been caused by a misunderstanding that the schools were being closed today, Whitley said.

North Carolina has had integrated public schools for six years with a minimum of trouble and none in recent years. About 500 Negro children are integrated in schools throughout the state.

Brown, meanwhile, was being held in an undisclosed jail. Sheriff Frank Daniel said he was free to make bond. Brown surrendered Tuesday night.

Daniel said the wounded men were N. L. Oliver, 21, whose father is a member of the Caswell County board of education, and James Nixon of Burlington. Oliver received a scalp wound and Nixon was shot in the shoulder.

The sheriff said the wounded men were in the back seat of an auto driven by Allen Smith, 22. Daniel quoted Smith as saying Brown's car bumped his from the rear and that when Smith got out to survey the damage, Brown began shooting with a .38 caliber pistol. Smith said he fired at him three times but missed.

The sheriff said Brown had complained to him twice that he was harassed by white persons after taking three of his children to the Bartlett Elementary School and one to Yancey High School.

Commission Silent on New Weights

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Highway Commission declined today to take a firm stand on proposed legislation to increase the truck weight limit in Arkansas.

However, Commission Chairman John Crain of Wilson said the commission felt any weight increase should be tied to a boost in license fees and that heavy trucks should be barred from secondary roads.

The commission said it would take a wait-and-see" attitude on various legislative proposals to require it to annex county roads to the state highway system.

Crain said the commission also would favor legislation to tighten the requirements under which a $150 license tag is issued to trucks hauling natural resources.

Crain was re-elected to a new 2-year term as chairman. Wayne Hampton of Stuttgart was elected vice chairman to replace Glenn Wallace of Nashville, who was replaced on the commission today by John Harsh of Magnolia.

Besides taking bids on construction contracts today, the commission:

Canceled a $159,043 contract for construction of 2.272 miles of Helena-West Helena road because the Phillips County Judge said funds to pay the county's share of the project were not available.

Awarded contracts totaling $463,653 for purchase of 230 motor vehicles for highway department use. The bulk of the contracts went to the Louis George Motor Co. of Osceola, which bid $399,136 for 201 units.

Authorized purchase of a 6.1-acre tract for $4,000, and the expenditure of $33,000 for construction of an area headquarters at Russellville.

Authorized preparation of a final master street plan for the city of Jonesboro.

Authorized replacement of a bridge on state Highway 151 near the Blytheville Air Force Base.

Letter Brings a Big Laugh

WASHINGTON (AP)—The audience gathered to see two French plays Tuesday night when a letter written in French to Jacqueline Kennedy was read aloud during the intermission.

The closing complement of a flowery homage to Mrs. Kennedy by French dramatist Jean Cocteau was this:

And may I admit in closing, Madame, that your smile charms me much more than Mona Lisa's smile."

Mrs. Kennedy was not present. It was explained she had read the two plays presented by Le Theatre de Paris but was unable to attend the performance.

Her social secretary, Letitia Baldridge, said she had received the letter earlier in the day and was very much touched by it.

Would Force Signs of Integration

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Restaurants and other establishments in Arkansas serving meals on a racially integrated basis would be forced to display signs saying so under a bill filed by Rep. W. L. Ward of Lee County.

The bill carries an emergency clause which would make it effective immediately upon passage and Gov. Orval E. Faubus' signature.

The bill set out that a number of business establishments have or have planned to racially integrate their eating facilities, that public news media either have or could fail to inform the public of such integration, that many people possess strong feelings either pro or con on the race issue and that

Authorized the director to negotiate with Baxter County officials on a trade for a 3.27-acre tract near Mountain Home for location of a maintenance headquarters.

Major Tax Cut Brings Arguments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key Democratic and Republican Congress members split in a debate before businessmen today on the question whether government spending can be cut to match a major cut in taxes.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., asserted that $6 to $8 billion could be cut from President Kennedy's $98.8 billion budget without hurting anyone.

But Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., argued that under present laws and commitments it was impossible to cut spending to equal the new $10 billion of tax reductions that the President proposes. We'd have to change our authorization laws and our appropriation pattern," he said.

He said $75 billion of the budget was devoted to spending for defense, space research and payment on the federal debt.

Humphrey, the Senate Democratic whip, Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., House Democratic whip, debated with Goldwater, Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana at the U.S. Chamber of Commerce's public affairs conference.

The three Republicans called for spending cuts to match any reduction in taxes.

The three Democrats agreed that the budget should be examined again carefully. Symington promised to support any reduction that won't endanger the security of the United States.

Tax Cut Affects All Incomes

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy asks Congress today to couple a proposed $13.5 billion tax-cutting tax reforms that would affect all income brackets.

The reforms, designed to recoup about $3.5 billion of the revenue loss that would stem from rate cuts, will be spelled out for the first time in a special presidential message to Congress.

This document also will repeat, and with greater detail Kennedy's earlier recommendation that the biggest rate slash in the nation's history be put into effect in three steps starting this year.

In his Jan. 14 State of the Union message, Kennedy said individual tax rates should be chopped from a range of 20 to 91 per cent to a new sliding scale running from 14 to 65 per cent. And he urged that top corporate rates be cut from 52 per cent to 47 per cent.

At the same time, Kennedy said rate reductions should be offset to the extent of $3.5 billion by tax law revisions aimed at promoting greater fairness and more productive use of national resources.

Blevins Edges Spring Hill in Overtime

The Saratoga Junior girls started the second night of the Hempstead County tournament last night with a rousing 32 to 17 victory over the Hope Junior girls.

In the second game of the night the Spring Hill Senior girls edged Guernsey's ladies 42 to 39.

The Blevins and Spring Hill Senior boys had a thriller. The regular game ended with the score tied 69-69. Spring Hill pulled out ahead in the overtime but Blevins fought back and a foul shot won the game for them 74 to 73. It was a hard fought contest from start to finish.

Tonight the Guernsey Junior girls play Spring Hill at 6:30 p.m.

At 7:30 p.m. the Blevins and Guernsey Junior boys get together.

Hope's "B" boys meet the Guernsey boys at 8:30 p.m.

The concession stand at the Blevins tournament will be open from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. tonight.

Henry Not Like a Pro Athlete

Camille Henry and Gump Worsley look about as little like professional athletes as any you're likely to find.

Henry is a gaunt, almost frail-looking wing. Worsley is a round little goalie with a Santa Claus stomach. Each makes his living with the New York Rangers.

Between them they brought the Rangers one of the most welcome ties in their National Hockey League history Wednesday night, a 3-3 affair with Chicago.

The tie represents the first point New York has picked up in 10 meetings with the league-leading Black Hawks, who had scored nine straight victories over the Rangers this season.

Even with the tie, Chicago managed to expand its league leading margin to three points when second-place Montreal fell before Toronto 5-1 in the only other game scheduled Wednesday.

The Black Hawks seemed well on their way to another rout of the Rangers going into the third period. They had a 3-1 lead before Henry popped in two last-period goals.

Only Worsley's spectacular effort in the New York goal preserved it, however. He came up with a total of 32 saves.

Didn't Do Well

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Professional golfer Gardner Dickinson had some familiar names in his foursome for Wednesday's pro-amateur prelude to the San Francisco Open Tournament — Kennedy, Johnson and Washington. They didn't do too well.

Dickinson shot a 71 and his three partners, William T. Kennedy, Glendo Johnson and Tom Washington—all Northern California amateurs—could help him only two strokes among them to a 69 best-ball score.

Fight Cancelled

Sees Big Things From Bob Turley

BOSTON (AP)—Bill Rigney, who piloted the Los Angeles Angels to a surprising third-place finish in the American League last season, says he's hoping for big things this year from Bob Turley.

Turley was named the outstanding pitcher in the majors in 1958, then seemed to lose everything. He won only two games last season for the New York Yankees and was traded to the Angels.

We just can't believe that Turley could be so great less than five years ago and then become nothing," Rigney said Wednesday night.

We're certainly hoping he can come through."

Rigney was in Boston to speak at a dinner sponsored by the Boston baseball writers.

Says Millions of Planets Bear Life

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Scattered through the Milky Way are perhaps 600 million planets bearing intelligent life, an astronomer theorized today.

The Milky Way is a galaxy or family of 20 to 200 billion stars, with our sun being a rather average star.

Prof. Lloyd Motz of Columbia University said he estimates the Milky Way contains 200 million stars similar to our sun, and if they have planets like ours, each might possess three as abodes of an intelligent form of life.

Besides earth in the retinue of the sun's planets, Venus and Mars could support an intelligent form of life under slightly altered conditions," Motz told a joint session of the Institute of Aerospace Sciences and American Meteorological Society.

That life exists beyond the solar system is now taken for granted by most scientists, even though we have no direct evidence," he said.

We know from astronomical observations that in our galaxy there are millions of stars similar to our sun. Recent developments in the theory of stellar evolution (now observationally confirmed) show that all stars with the same general characteristics originated in pretty much the same way from the same kind of cosmic dust and gas, and have evolved in the same time through the same series of stages.

Moreover, we also know that when stars like the sun are born from a matrix of gas and dust, a planetary system also arises.

From this it follows that there are in the galaxy millions of planetary systems like our solar system with similar physical and chemical properties.

If a star has been burning long enough, and if the temperature is agreeable on a planet, highly intelligent life is bound to evolve," Motz said.

Vegetables, in the Can Featured

Weekly Food Review
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It will take fancy figuring and menu manipulation this weekend to fill grocery needs without stretching the food budget.

Fresh fruit and vegetable prices still show clearly the effect of Southern freezes and strikes along Atlantic and Gulf docks.

Housewives will find, however, several items are lower than usual, or at least no higher. Canned vegetables are a major feature, reflecting big crops and heavy carryover.

Root vegetables are also in good supply.

Regional vegetable attractions include artichokes, collards, parsnips, turnip greens, celery, cauliflower, hothouse rhubarb and broccoli.

Among fruits, pears, apples and avocados offer the most reasonably priced alternatives to the higher priced citrus and bananas.

Meat prices have been little affected by recent supply disruptions, and seasonally lower prices apply in many areas.

Pork loin roasts are highlighted in many stores over the country. Spareribs and cutlets are other pork features.

Beef specials include round, rib and chuck roasts. Ground beef is widely featured.

Poultry items are being pushed at many stores, with large turkeys going at 39 cents a pound in the stores of one chain.

DOROTHY DIX

Can Flirtatious Husband Be Trusted?

EVER BE TRUSTED?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I am trying desperately to grant my husband a second forgiveness. As far as he knows he has it. So far I've been able to maintain this attitude when he is home but when I'm alone, I just fall apart.

He first strayed 14 years ago (we'd been married six months). After that, though a chronic flirt, he remained faithful as far as I know.

Our latest crack-up occurred last Christmas at the company party. Prior to it he frequently mentioned "a real sport of a woman," who insisted he be at the party. A little checking revealed that he had dated her before.

When confronted with the truth he tried to lie his way out, then added that the woman was all of 18. Now I learn that she is 40 and a real vamp.

It's difficult for me to concentrate on home or children. All I do is mope. I'm considered very attractive and could have my pick of men — but I love my husband.

He is about to receive a promotion which involves numerous business trips. Frankly, this scares me to death. I have cried, begged and threatened, in an effort to reform him. He loves me the children and our home out he is a born flirt and can charm a woman into believing the moon is made of green cheese. How can I, the wife, learn to trust my man once he has strayed? —Frightened Dear Frightened: This is one case where frankness might clear the air. Stop trying to check on your husband. Be frank, above-board and be yourself.

To condone what you secretly condemn is bad for you both. He is bound to read your thoughts. Bring all your pent-up fears out into the open. Use reason, not emotion, when discussing the situation.

Only by being really frank can an extrovert like your husband be reached. If you can bring yourself to sincerely trust him and let him know it, his conscience will make him toe the straight and narrow.

But if you continue to covertly suspect him of the worst, he's lost forever as far as you're concerned. Send a stamped self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Happy Marriage."

Dear Helen: Please tell me if I am old-fashioned. The young lady in question had a shotgun wedding and a son before she was 18 and, at 20, a divorce. Six years, another husband and two more children later, she eloped with a GI. Now she is back with her second husband acting as if nothing had happened.

Who do the good people of our little town condemn? The GI, of course. I'm fighting the good fight for him. In my book, the girl is a floozy. They call her misguided. Who's right? —A Neighbor

Dear Neighbor: "Judge not lest ye be judged." Let the GI fight his own battles.

Dear Helen: My wife wants me to turn over my entire pay check to her each week. And this despite the fact that she works too. If I give her my salary, don't you think she should give me hers?

—Just a Struggling Husband

Dear Just: Your wife is being unfair in demanding your salary check, just as you would be in asking for hers, regardless of what either earns. You are both entitled to what you earn — with in reason. In marriage as in a business partnership, there are certain expenses which must be shared.

Sit down, figure up the cost of maintaining the home, then open a separate bank account for this purpose to be administered jointly. If each of you is intelligent enough to earn money you should be intelligent enough to learn how to administer it. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Financial Trouble."

Have you a problem? Perhaps

Mediators Call in Printers

NEW YORK (AP) — Mediators have called representatives of striking printers and the publishers of the city's nine major newspapers to meet today in the first joint negotiations in a week.

Announcement of the bargaining session was made Tuesday night. It came hours after leaders of 10 newspaper unions called on the publishers to participate in "continuous negotiations" and the publishers replied that they were ready to meet at any time at the call of the mediators.

Morris Tarshis, a New York City member of the mediation panel, said the full committees of the publishers and printers would attend the meeting.

There has been no joint negotiating session since last Wednesday in efforts to end the city's newspaper blackout, now in its 47th day.

The negotiations are between the Publishers Association of New York City, which represents the

Fund for Republic Group Hears Adlai

NEW YORK (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson told the 10th annual convocation dinner of the Fund for the Republic Tuesday night that he sees a resemblance between the current struggles of new nations and the early history of this country.

Stevenson, U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said: "If we now see in Africa single-party rule dominated by one leader, we should not hold up our hands in horror but remember that this is not far from our politics of two centuries ago."

We might even have the modesty to admit that in Northern Ireland and the American South, for example, we, too, practice single-party government."

The way ahead does not lie through sermonizing," Stevenson said. It lies rather in a sustained effort to work out, within the United Nations and in partnerships with other nations the chief lines of advance toward a more coherent and viable world community, with freedom as its working principle and constitutionalism as its political habit."

Red Editor Flees to Freedom

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A program editor of Moscow Radio, who wanted to see for himself what the West is like, has defected to Sweden.

At a news conference, Vladik Krasnov, 25, said today he escaped from his Russian party as it toured a Stockholm department store Oct. 28.

I just slipped away in the crowd," he said.

Krasnov told reporters he had been working as editor and rewrite man in the Swedish section of Moscow Radio. His work gave him unusual opportunities to read newspapers, and Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union.

Leaders of the 10 newspaper unions cooperating in a group called the Officers Committee for Newspaper Unity sent their "continuous negotiations" plea in telegrams to the publishers and mediators after a meeting Tuesday.

The telegrams expressed continued support for the printers, who struck against four of the newspapers in a contract dispute centered mostly on wages.

Bertram A. Powers, president of Local 6, is chairman of the unity committee.

Nearly 20,000 members of newspaper unions are idle in the blackout caused by the strike of 3,000 printers.

In Cleveland, Ohio, representatives of the Cleveland Newspaper Guild and the city's two strike-bound newspapers talked again Tuesday about the key union security issue. The Cleveland newspaper blackout is in its 55th day.

Mayor Ralph S. Locher attended the session as mediator. He said wages, another issue in the guild dispute, were not discussed.

The Cleveland Newspaper Guild is a unit of the AFL-CIO American Newspaper Guild, a union of editorial and commercial department employees, is on strike against the "Plain Dealer" and the Press & News.

Local 473 of the independent Teamsters Union also is on strike against the city's two newspapers. Wages and working conditions are the main issues in the Teamsters' strike.

A Memory Training Class Needed

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—If anyone ever starts a memory-training course in our neighborhood I'll be the first one to join it—that is, if I can remember where and when the classes are held.

I'd like to be able to blame my sieve-like memory on what I gracefully refer to as my "mature" years. But the fact is, the only date I've ever been able to remember is my birthday, and lately I've been trying to forget that.

Some people forget the tag line of a joke. I forget the whole joke. I not only can't remember what it is I'm trying to remember.

While my husband is away at work I often think of things I want to tell him when he gets home. Or I run across some interesting bit of news in our old hometown paper and I stow the item in my mind for future reference. Unfortunately I always seem to put it in the file and forget" compartment.

Not only do I not recall details—I don't even hang on to the generalities. Concerning our family vacation trips, I can never be certain whether it was Bunker Hill we visited, or Gettysburg.

When I beg my husband at a party, to tell them that funny story about what happened in Canada," I'm not just giving him a witty push to the center of the stage. The truth is I can't remember what did happen in Canada.

Mostly I am able to conceal this mental handicap but there have been occasions when it proved my social undoing.

Once a dear friend was visiting me when another friend dropped in unexpectedly.

That was fine, except that in the surprise at seeing Friend No. 2 her name escaped me completely when I started to introduce her to Friend No. 1.

Somehow I couldn't ring myself to my own cordial greeting with the query, By the way, what is your name?"

Suddenly her identity flashed across my memory. True, it was only her last name I had thought of, but at least I could make the introduction by surnames, even though it was a bit formal.

With relief, I beamingly announced, Mrs. Kolman, this is... all at once, Friend No. 1's last name had vanished from my mind.

Well, at least that's one incident I'll never forget.

A new world opened to me," he said. I felt I had to travel and see what the world really was like outside the Soviet Union."

Krasnov has been granted political asylum in Sweden.

Plan Accepted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said today the New Orleans Steamship Association has accepted the dock strike settlement plan proposed by his presidentially appointed mediation group.

He made public a telegram from R. R. Barkerding, president of the New Orleans association, which said the association would meet today to make its official acceptance of the offer.

Coffee, French Crullers
Warm A Wintry Morning

Let the winter winds blow and the snow fall. There is always a big, fragrant pot of coffee to help us forget the cold. All the better if a few friends are on hand for some local gossip.

Coffee alone is warm refreshment, of course, but no one will deny the merits of a batch of crullers to go with it. These delectable French Crullers have just come from the fryer, still warm and wonderfully light.

The coffee, you'll notice, is served in the largest cup we could find, and the coffee-pot is just as generous in size. That's because a kaffeeklatsch is one of our few remaining customs that just can't be rushed, and the coffee must be rich, fresh and plentiful!

French Crullers
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup water
1/2 cup butter or margarine
4 eggs

Mix and sift flour, salt and sugar. Combine water and butter in saucepan. Stir until butter melts; bring to a boil. Add flour mixture. Cook and stir until batter leaves the sides of the pan and forms a ball around the spoon. Remove from heat. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Chill. Put through pastry tube or cookie press using largest serrated tip, to form circles. Form each circle on greased pancake turner and slip into deep fat heated to 370°. Fry until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Makes about 15.

Small Firms Would Get Relief First

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Small business first and later individuals would finally get relief from the order of relief which President Kennedy proposes in his tax-cutting program he sends to Congress Thursday.

The smallest business firms—those with earnings of $25,000 or less a year—would get their total amount of relief effective as of the first of this month. Individuals would get the first of several cuts in rates effective July 1. And business in general would wait until at least the first of next year for cuts that would mean much to it.

The effects in 1963 on the economy or revenue collections—assuming Congress goes along with the plan—would be comparatively small.

The relief for business would total around $400 million. Cut in individual returns on this year's income could reach about $3 billion.

And for most persons there already has been a rise in taxes—deductions for Social Security having advanced to 3 per cent Jan. 1, trimming take-home pay. For business the outlay for Social Security also rose, since the employee matches the deduction from the employer's paycheck. This money goes to the Treasury, although it winds up in a special trust fund and not in the administrative budget.

Everyone also is paying another government department—more—in higher postal rates—an increase in collections which the Treasury will be glad to get to whittle down the postal deficit.

Many individuals and business firms also will face higher state and local taxes this year. So what they gain from federal tax cuts may be applied to other tax bills.

A federal tax cut will be none the less welcome for all that—if Congress votes one. The high rates on incomes, individual and corporate, are a drag on in entire and often an encouragement to evasion or an excuse for loopholes.

But earlier hopes for a big breakthrough in tax cutting this year have built up expectations that may be disappointed.

The way small business is to be helped first is explained by the President in his economic report to Congress.

Effective the first of this month the rate on the first $25,000 of corporate income would be dropped from the present 30 per cent to 22 per cent, while the rate on corporate income over $25,000 would remain at 52 per cent.

For a corporation of any size or health, the tax on the first $25,000 is small potatoes. It will have to wait, at least through 1963, for any drop in the 52 per cent rate. Even this rate would drop to 47 per cent, for a total saving of $2.5 billion a year.

Closing loopholes—whether for business or individuals—would bring back to the Treasury $3.5 billion of the total corporate and personal cut of $13.5 billion which the President favors.

What Congress does about the rates, and perhaps even more about the loopholes, will have considerable effect on this or that business or person. The effect on the economy as a whole is subject for wide debate.

There is a tree in a cave in a huge sandstone bluff on White River, three miles above Cañon Rock, on which the sun has never shone. The bluff sets at such an angle, east and west, that sunlight doesn't penetrate the opening of the cave.

Bullfighting on TV Is a Ticklish One

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The National Broadcasting Company's Continuity Acceptance Department is currently engaged in one of the most ticklish, delicate operations in television: editing film of a Spanish bullfight.

The film—showing fights by two outstanding matadors—was made for Bud Palmer's "Sports International" show, and is scheduled for broadcast Saturday, Feb. 2.

The problem is to show a valid film of bull fights, while keeping "their cruelty aspects to an absolute minimum," in the words of Carl Watson, network director of broadcast standards.

The fact that large numbers of Americans disapprove of bullfighting does not change the hard fact that it is the national spectator sport of Spain and—more than that—plays a vital role in Spanish life and is even a reflection of Spanish culture.

"We go into an this in the show," continued Watson. "We cannot show a bull fight without also showing the banderillas (barbed darts) on the bulls. We will not show the actual entrance of the matador's sword killing the bull, but we must show the bull falling to its knees."

Watson said his department already has sat in on three long editing sessions for the show—and isn't finished yet.

"The main thing is to temper the representation so that it remains honest but without glamorizing it," he said. "We've had experience with this sort of thing before—there was a Hemingway piece and there was a full fight in 'The Many Faces of Spain' last season."

Frank Sinatra will be master of ceremonies for next April's motion picture: "Oscar" awards program on ABC. Bob Hope, who has been doing the job in recent years, is unavailable this time—the toothpaste sponsor of his NBC show is a principal competitor of the sponsor of the Oscar show.

DR. PRUITT'S BODY

THE STORY: The police lieutenant accuses Matt Bacon of knowing things he is not telling the police.

XVI

Since police court was held on Mondays and Fridays, the municipal court room of the suburban city hall was available for the inquest.

It was a brief affair, merely to determine, if possible, the cause and manner of Dr. Chester Pruitt's death.

Corbin Bradley testified that Pruitt had been missing since Thursday. Jack Clague explained the time card system and was at loss to tell how Pruitt could have been found on the plant grounds after his card showed that he had punched out at 5:12 p.m.

"Nothing like it has been pulled in the 12 years I've worked here," Clague said.

Matt told of finding the body. He said that his investigation had led him to believe that Pruitt had never left the grounds, that there had been some sort of forgery or sleight of hand in the punching of the time card.

Dr. Burns, the medical examiner, said that Pruitt had died of a broken neck.

"Were there any other injuries on the body of the deceased?" the county coroner asked.

"Yes, two," the examiner said. "He had what appeared to be a bruise on the left lower mandible, near the chin. There was also a laceration, a deep cut, in the scalp on the right side of the head. There was dried blood in the hair, indicating that the wound had bled."

"Could you tell by the nature of these wounds how they were inflicted?"

"Not how they were inflicted, except that one of the officers from the police laboratory came up with an interesting theory and some evidence to substantiate it."

"Yes, doctor. Sergeant Alsop is here, and will testify. Could you tell when death occurred?"

"We know he was alive at about 3:15 o'clock Thursday afternoon," said the medical examiner. "I would say that he was killed afterwards up to as late as early Friday morning. About 3 a. m., I'd say. If we had not known that he was alive in mid-afternoon, I might just as easily have said he was killed anytime between noon and Thursday and 3 a. m. Friday."

"Thank you, doctor."

Police Sergeant Alsop was called. He told of making exhaustive fingerprint and blood tests in Dr. Pruitt's office.

"Did you find anything?" the coroner asked.

"There were numerous fingerprints," said the officer. "Mostly Dr. Pruitt's and members of his staff. The F. B. I. has prints of all workers on security projects. But one area had been wiped clean."

"Where was that?"

"On the right side of the room, as you enter the door, is a small steel book case. It has three shelves. The bottom of the top shelf is about two feet from the floor. It had been wiped, also an area just beneath it on the second shelf."

"I examined the books and found discolorations on the bindings of several directly above and below the top shelf. I applied tests to the bindings and to the shelf and found traces of blood."

"Even though it had been wiped clean?"

"Yes. Our method will show traces of blood even after it has been washed several times."

"What did you deduce from these findings?"

"From Dr. Burns' medical report, it appeared as if there had been some sort of altercation in Pruitt's office. A blow was struck. It looked like a right jab, or possibly an uppercut. It landed on Pruitt's jaw, at the place where the jaw was bruised, either knocking him out or causing him to fall. As he fell his head struck the top shelf of the bookcase. The weight of Pruitt's body plus the acceleration of his fall broke his neck."

"Would death have been instantaneous?"

"I can't answer that. Maybe Dr. Burns can."

The coroner turned to the doctor seated in the municipal court room. "Since this is an informal hearing, you can answer that from where you sit, doctor. You are still under oath."

"No, said, Dr. Burns. 'Not instantaneous. Pruitt might have lived two or three minutes after words.'"

"But for all practical purposes it was instantaneous."

"If you want to define it that way," said Dr. Burns.

The testimony continued with statements of various people who had seen or talked to Pruitt the day of the murder. Matt listened, but learned nothing really new. The motive was the important point, he decided, and he didn't think the motive had anything to do with espionage. More than likely Pruitt had died from the effects of a blow struck in anger. The coroner's verdict credited Dr. Pruitt's death to a blow inflicted by person or persons unknown and that the act probably was felonious.

DeGaulle Has Agreed to Delay Some U.S. Goods Clouded on Common Mart

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

PARIS (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle agreed today to put the problem of Britain's entry into the European Common Market on ice for the time being.

Reliable sources said De Gaulle at a final half-hour talk with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, agreed to Adenauer's proposal that the executive commission of the European Economic Community make a thorough new study of the problems of British entry and submit its recommendations to the foreign ministers of the six Common Market countries.

There would be no time limit for completion of the study, but it is expected to take some months.

Adenauer left Bonn after his talks with De Gaulle, ending a three-day visit to Paris during which he signed a comprehensive treaty for French-West German cooperation in diplomacy, defense, education and culture. It is designed to bury the age-old enmities of the two countries.

De Gaulle's opposition to British membership in the Common Market posed a major problem in French-West German cooperation even before the treaty was signed. West Germany favors Britain's entry into the economic community.

West Germany also has endorsed President Kennedy's proposal for a multinational nuclear force for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. De Gaulle opposes it.

Adenauer's proposal to transfer the Common Market issue from the negotiating table to the study stage is designed to prevent a dramatic rupture in Brussels Monday, when the six nations are to take up a French demand that the British application for membership be shelved indefinitely.

The other four members of the community—Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and Italy—have joined West Germany in opposing De Gaulle's stand.

The French agreement to submit the Common Market dispute to the study commission did not commit France to accept any of the commission's recommendations. De Gaulle was said to feel that the study would support his contention that Britain is not ready for full membership in the Common Market.

Agreement in Shipping Strike Near

NEW YORK (AP)—Northeast shipowners and longshoremen have agreed to terms to settle the month-long dock strike—but numerous details remain to be worked out before more than 600 idle ships sail again.

Southern and Gulf ship owners and longshore negotiators had still to come to terms.

And agreements in all areas are subject to ratification by the union rank and file.

A Casserole For Teenage Chefs To Prepare

Teenagers love to show their skill in the kitchen. Why not let your son or daughter prepare dinner for the family with this tempting casserole recipe.

You'll note that it makes use of one of the new canned dry soup mixes. These little cans of dry soup mix are magic ingredients when it comes to cooking. And the best part of it all they require so little space on the pantry shelf.

For this particular casserole... Beefoodle Casserole... the noodle dry soup mix is blended into the browned ground beef, then water is added and the mixture brought to a boil. After the addition of cooked green beans, tomatoes, and a bit of oregano the mixture is spooned into a casserole and topped with cheese. After 30 minutes in a moderate oven, the young chef is ready to bring his or her delicious casserole to the table.

You might suggest an accompaniment of crisp celery sticks and cucumber strips. Let dessert be simple or festive... the teenagers own choice.

Beefoodle Casserole

3 1/2 pound ground beef
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups water
1 can (3 1/2 ounces) noodle dry soup mix
1 package (9 ounces) frozen green beans, cooked and drained
1 cup cooked tomatoes
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1/2 cup shredded mild process cheese

In saucepan, brown meat; stir to separate particles. Blend in flour; gradually add water. Stir in soup mix; bring to boil. Cook 7 minutes, stirring now and then. Add remaining ingredients except cheese. Transfer to 1 1/2 quart casserole. Top with cheese. Bake at 350° F. for 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

other nations, with the aim of cutting tariffs and other barriers, such as import quotas and high taxes on imported goods. His chief negotiator will be Christian A. Herter, a former secretary of state.

The President can impose duties against products of any country putting up crippling barriers against American farm products. But the hope is that the barriers can be lowered instead.

Herter says preliminaries to the final bargaining talks on tariffs on farm and other products may take 15 months. And under the best of circumstances tough bargaining is expected.

Would Favor a Tax Cut Conditionally

By GEORGE BARTSCH

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., said Tuesday he would favor President Kennedy's proposed $13.5 billion tax cut, but only if it were coupled with similar decreases in the federal budget.

He emphasized that he would not let his tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee be "stampeded into this thing," and that "We will not allow this reduction to be added to deficit spending and to the public debt."

Mills, chairman of the 25-man committee, was expected by some to be a stumbling block for some of President's tax proposals. He told a group of Little Rock businessmen Tuesday, however, that he thought the decrease, coupled with the administration's suggested tax reform, "would be of great benefit to the nation."

"I have always thought leaving money in private enterprise would stimulate the economy more than the government taking it out of private pockets and spending it," he said.

Mills said there were many people who thought there should be no tax reduction or reform until there was a surplus on hand.

"While I'm a natural-born optimist," he declared, "I wouldn't be able—even at the height of my optimism—to tell you when that would be."

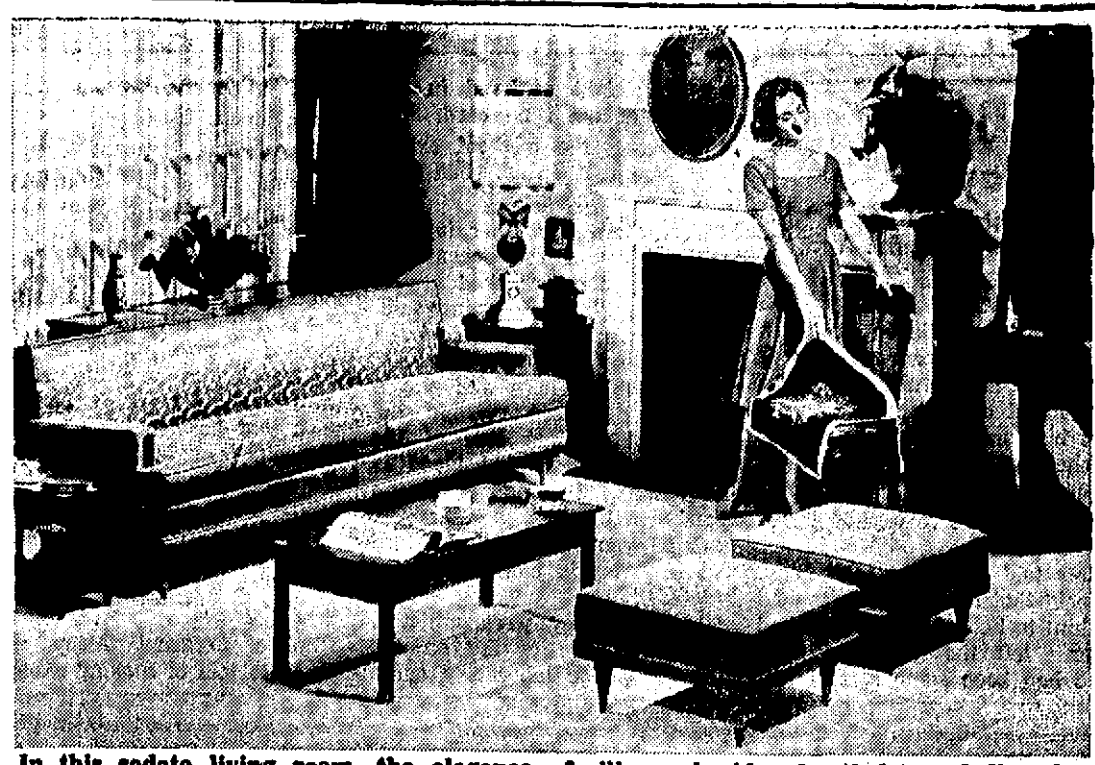

Mills said the 1963-64 budget would show an $11.9 billion deficit in addition to the $2.7 billion tax decrease proposed by the President.

"But the persons I have talked to tell me budget appropriations will be cut, and I believe it is the sincere hope of President Kennedy that economies can be made," he said.

"If Congress finds way of reducing the budget by the amount of the suggested first step in tax reduction ($2.7 billion), I am willing to gamble on the future."

The congressman said the budget had been represented to him as the first since World War II in which federal agencies would be asked to operate on "1963 appropriations or less." He said this was excluding defense spending and appropriations for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Mills said he had been only lukewarm to the idea of a tax cut last fall, but said this had been because speculation on the amount of the cut ranged from $5 billion to $15 billion.

In this sedate living room, the elegance of silky embroidered upholstery belies the price tag of the furniture.

"Any increase beyond that would have represented to me a lack of fiscal responsibility on all our parts," he said. "But I have always thought a reform of tax law and a reduction of rates would be advisable."

2 Million Gallons of Oil Spilled

MANKATO, Minn. (AP)—A huge steel tank holding two million gallons of soybean oil burst in 20 below zero weather today, sending a torrent of oil down several streets. One man was injured and two freight cars were pushed into a nearby river by the wave of oil.

The rupture in the 40-foot, high tank at the Honeybread Products Co. was believed caused by the severe cold.

Lowell Andreas, a plant official, estimated value of the oil at $1.5 million. No estimate of plant damage was made immediately.

Extreme cold thickened the orange-yellow crude into a messy ooze. A liquor store, restaurant and several homes were isolated as the oil flowed down three streets, one for a distance of three blocks.

In some places near the plant the oil was three feet deep.

A scoop loader used in snow removal was used to clear one street. The oil was dumped into a nearby ditch.

Nehru Assures His Government

By ALAN M. KENNEDY
NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru assured Parliament today that his government remains determined to drive the Chinese Communists from the sacred soil of India.

His statement came as Parliament considered the proposals of six nonaligned nations trying to mediate the border war. Some Indian legislators have feared Nehru might make concessions.

Nehru said that Peking has not accepted in full the proposals drafted at a Colombo, Ceylon, meeting and India will never agree to talks with Communist China until they are accepted.

The prime minister emphasized that Parliament's resolution of last November pledging to drive out the Chinese aggressors remains the basis of government policy.

"We are determined to carry it out no matter how long it may take," he said.

Nehru said any preliminary talks agreed to would not touch on the merits of the border dispute with the Chinese.

Doctor's Orders

After the farmer's frail and elderly wife had broken her leg the doctor put it in a cast and warned her not to walk up or down stairs. After a month of healing, the doctor removed the cast.

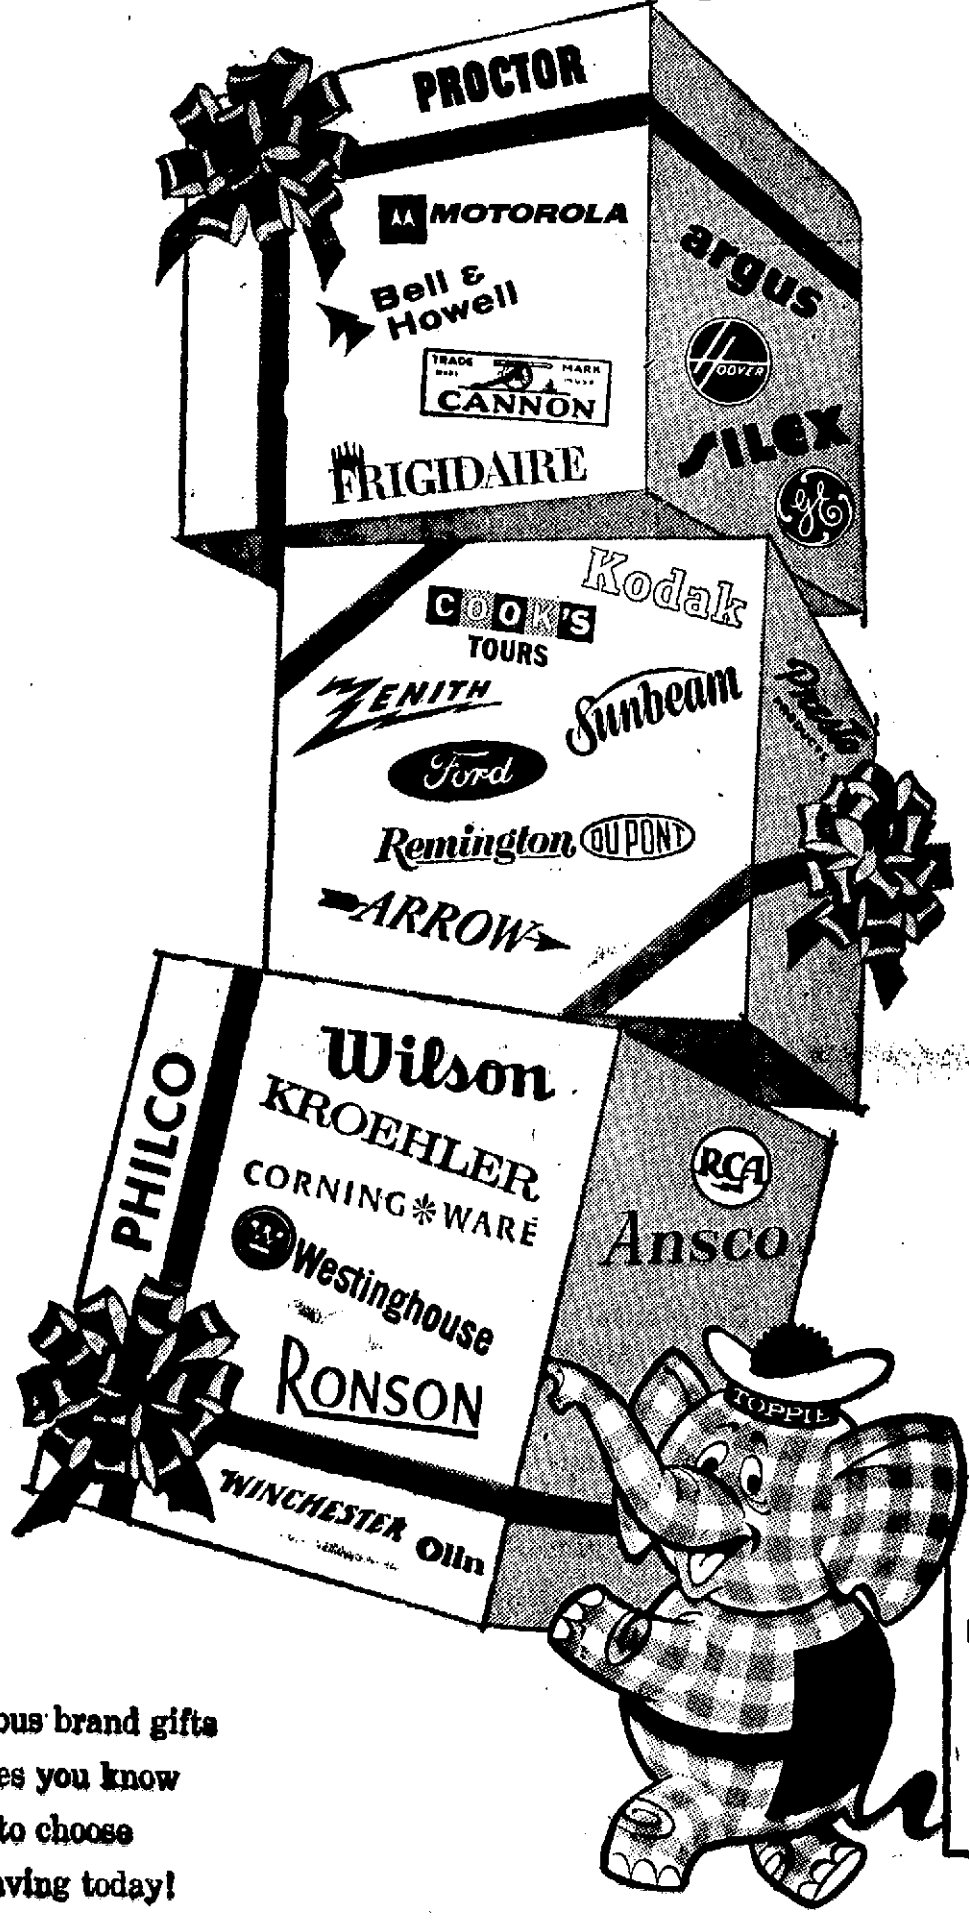

"Can I climb the stairs now?" she asked.

"Yes," said the doctor.

"Goodie," she exclaimed. "I'm certainly sick of climbing up and down the drainpipe."

Faubus Gives Himself a Pat on Back

STAR CITY, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus gave himself a pat on the back Tuesday in two speeches delivered during dedication of the National Wire Fabric plant at Star City.

The governor reviewed the accomplishments of his administration, and said welcoming new plants to Arkansas had become a weekly occurrence.

He said the Wire Fabric plant was part of the fulfillment of a dream — industrializing the state so residents would not have to seek employment opportunities elsewhere.

Faubus spoke at ceremonies at the plant Tuesday afternoon and at a dinner Tuesday night.

His banquet address followed the same pattern of the earlier speech, but he veered a little to attack the state press.

The biggest improvement the state needs is in some segments of the press, he said.

"They're afraid to tell this story (of the accomplishments of my administration)," he declared, because it would reflect some credit on me and legislators who are my friends."

Faubus said some of the questions put by the press were calculated to start a controversy between the state legislature and himself.

If we want to work together for the progress of the state, that won't make headlines for them (the press)," he said.

The governor said all the legislators knew they could get in the headlines by jumping on me," and that it was to their credit that they did not do this.

Faubus said during the first seven years of the Arkansas Industrial Development Corp., 70,000 new jobs had been created in the state. He said he thought that by the time he finished his fifth term of office, the total would have grown to 100,000.

That's the kind of record I'll have at the time I'm leaving office to go home — or preparing to take office for a new term," he said.

Many state legislators attended the ceremonies, and also toured Star City and the Byrd Manufacturing Co., a garment factory.

Other speakers at the plant ceremonies included Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark.; C. Hamilton Moses, former president of the Arkansas Power & Light Co., and Joseph A. Pascale, president of National Wire Fabric Corp.

Luxurious American wool adds a new air of elegance to formal wear.

Tshombe's villa here was guarded by a company of his own paramilitary, still bearing modern automatic weapons.

Tshombe did not go into details about the attack on him. He was given a small escort of Indian officers for his return to Elisabethville.

In an impromptu news conference, Tshombe expressed satisfaction with the U.N. operation and the peaceful occupation of Kolwezi, an important mineral center.

Asked if the central Congolese government had signed an amnesty law, Tshombe said: I do my duty and have already started implementing the U Thant plan (for Congo unity) regardless of what others are doing."

Tshombe was in obvious pain from an eye infection.

Although thousands of Katangan gendarmes have left, thousands more are lingering here, waiting for orders from their superiors. U.N. troops are not allowed in the town, but the civilian population seems relieved to have them at least on the outskirts.

Orbit Secret of Needles Unveiled

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hitherto secret Air Force experiment, involving the placing of six 14-inch tin needles in orbit around the earth has been unveiled.

The test, sometime last year, was a follow-up to the service's so far unsuccessful—and controversial—Project West Ford, designed to create an orbiting belt of 250 million hairlike copper needles around the planet to explore possibilities for a new communications technique. But the copper fibers from a test launched last fall, instead of stretching out into a belt, are still clumped together in five or six small clusters some 2,000 miles up.

Prior to the launching of the West Ford test, many scientists here and abroad had voiced concern that an artificial needle belt might remain aloft for years and adversely affect radio and optical astronomy studies.

Disarming Would Hurt Economically

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States can count on a happy binge of economic chaos if world diplomats ever agree to disarmament.

It would be joyful because of the age-old great hope that by junking armies and weapons under some effective control system mankind could be spared the scourge of war.

It would be chaotic because, whether disarmament came overnight or gradually, whether completely or piecemeal, it would be tremendously disruptive to the nation's economy.

The federal government, states and communities, industry and labor all would have to pull together in a concerted drive to adjust to the vast changes involved in abandoning production for war. This would be necessary to avoid plunging the country into a full-scale depression.

Yet, difficult and costly as the switchover would be, the experts say it could be managed and become a blessing. According to one official, "Whatever the cost it's bound to be cheaper" than the arms race.

Consider the effect on your own community and the nation as a whole. The federal government spends about $100 billion a year, half of which goes to defense-related activities. They swallow up a tenth of the nation's annual wealth. They provide jobs for one tenth of all workers.

With disarmament, production would be stopped or vastly cut on missiles, planes, tanks, guns, warships and the whole array of war-making hardware, plus the huge supplies of materials needed to produce and maintain them. Practically every type of business would feel the economic blow.

Jobs of some 6.5 million workers in the armed forces, in government defense agencies and in defense-producing industries would be jeopardized.

Areas with heavily defense-oriented economies naturally would be hit hardest but no sector of the country could expect to be spared. The effect on the stock market and financial values would be awesome.

How quickly and successfully the void could be filled would depend largely on the wisdom and determination of the nation's leaders and individual citizens.

All this has been under study for some time by the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, which says

"Even general and complete disarmament could not provide more than a part of the resources that would be needed to satisfy our unmet civilian needs—these needs are far greater than our defense effort."

"The basic problem for the United States in the event of disarmament is not one of an excess of human and physical resources, but of how we can most quickly and efficiently shift the released resources to serving our numerous and extensive civilian requirements. Heavy defense expenditures obviously have caused the nation to put off many worthwhile projects which, unlike armament production, would advance the material, cultural and spiritual status of a fast-growing population. The arms control agency has worked up a list such projects.

For example, the agency estimates that to educate children already born, without improving present standards of instruction, will require total annual expenditures by 1970 about double present school costs. It says advancing technology also requires billions more for studies not included in the usual school fare today. It lists billions needed for expended and improved housing, urban renewal and mass transportation, public works, resources development, and various health and social requirements. Moreover, it forecasts increased aid to less developed countries abroad once the arms spending burden is lifted.
